PRINCEPS 1974

WEBB SCHOOL OF KNOXVILLE

Knoxville, Tennessee

Volume Sixteen

Mrs. LeRoy P. Graf, Adviser Laurie Osborne, Editor
Co-Editor Amy Deeds

Though we may seem the same, like wrinkles in our uniform we are all different . . . our personalities are reflected in the hours we spend developing talents, the minutes we pass in conversation, and the fleeting seconds we spend in our unique thoughts . . .
each follows his own whims . . . enduring the cold to see a good football game packing a tight snowball but giving it away winning a stirring, satisfying argument, stealing a few moments of rest; pausing a few moments to join the sunrise.

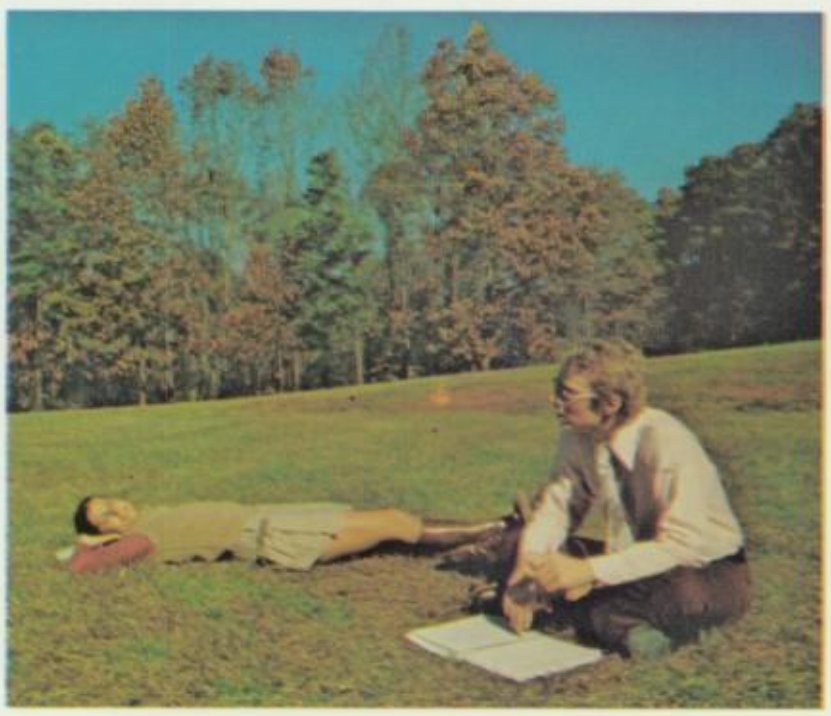
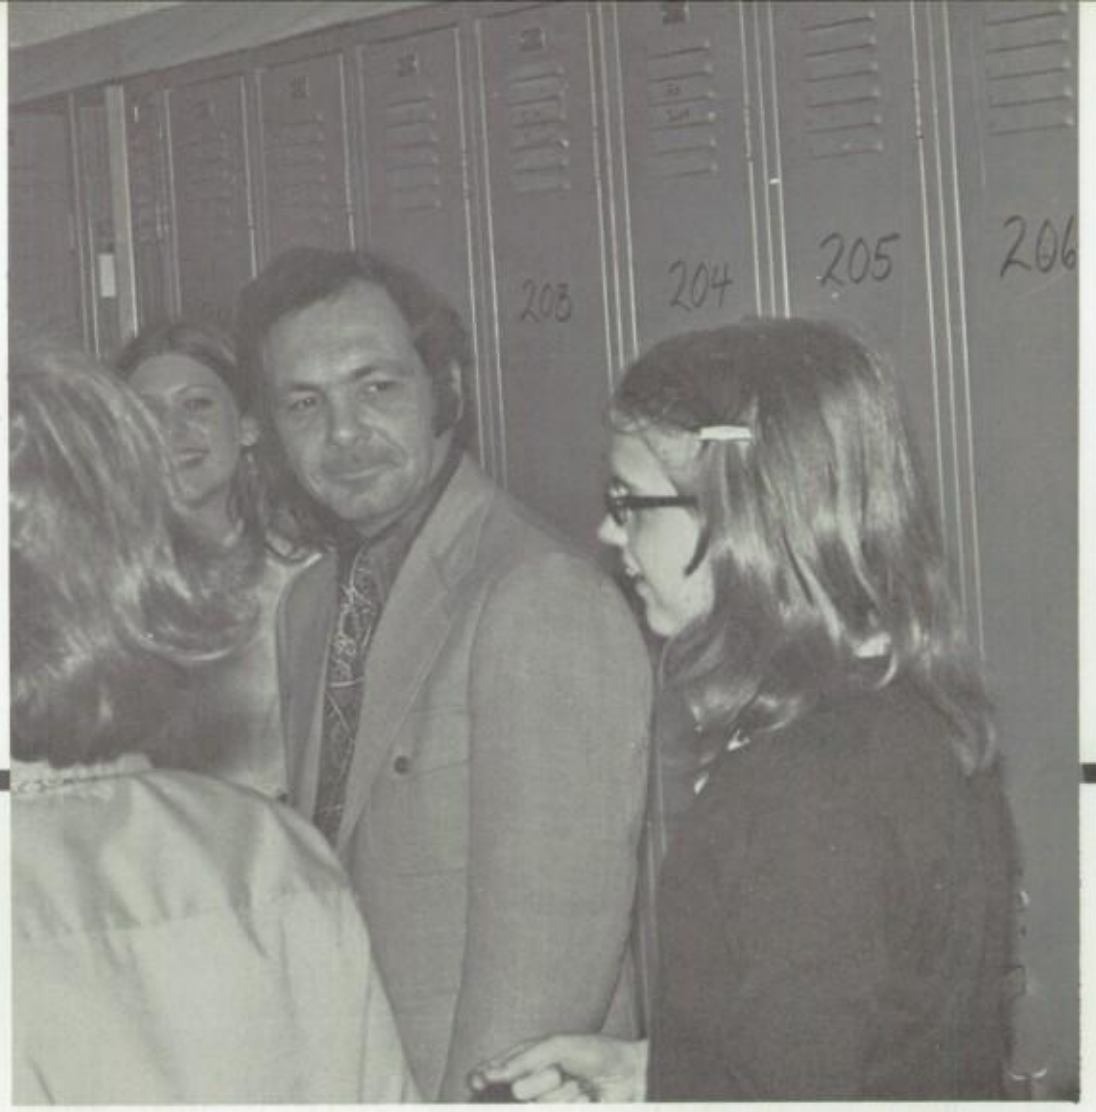
HAPPY MONDAY

No one was ready Monday morning . . . basketball and ballet, drama and dreams, conflicts of the the head and heart . . . studying on the bus by candlelight, skipping lunch to finish an assignment, giving a coherent answer in class, reading old magazines while researching a paper, or suddenly having it all come clear. We give chapel talks on what my dog did last summer, we work on plots in biology and English . . . it isn't always smooth or easy, but we're always learning.





203
205
206

Since we're going the same way let's go together . . . sharing an umbrella, a deck of cards or a dance . . . groups are as small as a pair of lab partners or as large as a football game . . . in groups, we share learning and experiences, challenges and accomplishment, interests and ambitions . . . we assemble in cars at convention, on mountain tops and in room 2.

Even though we may not speak, we enjoy each other's company . . . we drift between buildings, play cards in the lounge and on the bus, or just sit under the tree watching the school go by . . . no one can remain alone for long . . . going to Tidwell's office, passing by a friend's locker, attending a dance . . . the spontaneous contacts, from a sudden football goal to a passing smile . . . mean a lot.

ACADEMICS

Oh, c'mon! I don't have time; I have a physics test next period . . . Who cares about history? Look at that sunrise! . . . I just took a physical fitness test . . . and failed . . . Mrs. Lee, where are the paper towels? . . . I wasn't in the mood to read that novel . . . Where is your aesthetic sense? . . . $ax^2 + bx + c =$ who knows? . . . That is not waste paper; it's my art homework! . . . Please, let me borrow a pen. I'm desperate . . .

Webb Feels Deeply the Loss of Madame Smith

Mrs. Hilton A. (Elizabeth Z.) Smith, a French teacher and head of the Modern Language Department at Webb, died in mid-September at Shannondale Nursing Home, having suffered a massive stroke on March 27, two months before she had planned to retire. A large congregation attended the memorial service at Erin Presbyterian Church, where Mrs. Smith was long the devoted choir director. She left her husband, five children, seven grandchildren, and many loyal students.

Known throughout the area as an enthusiastic, thoroughly trained, and widely travelled teacher, Mrs. Smith had been at Webb for many years. Certainly no teacher was more dedicated to excellence; year after year, her students distinguished themselves in state and national competitions.

As a memorial, the faculty of Webb School are establishing an Elizabeth Z. Smith prize to be awarded each year to the outstanding student of French. Mrs. Smith was a teacher and a friend to many students at Webb, and she will long be remembered. Her contributions not only to the student body as a whole but also to individuals were greatly appreciated. This page is dedicated to her for her humanity and her untiring efforts to help the students and the school.

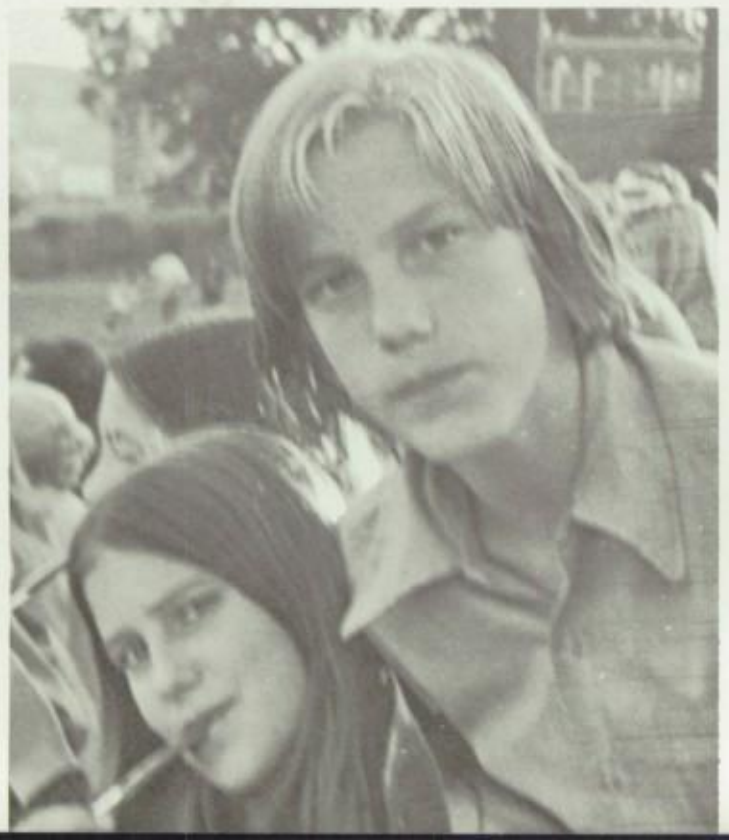
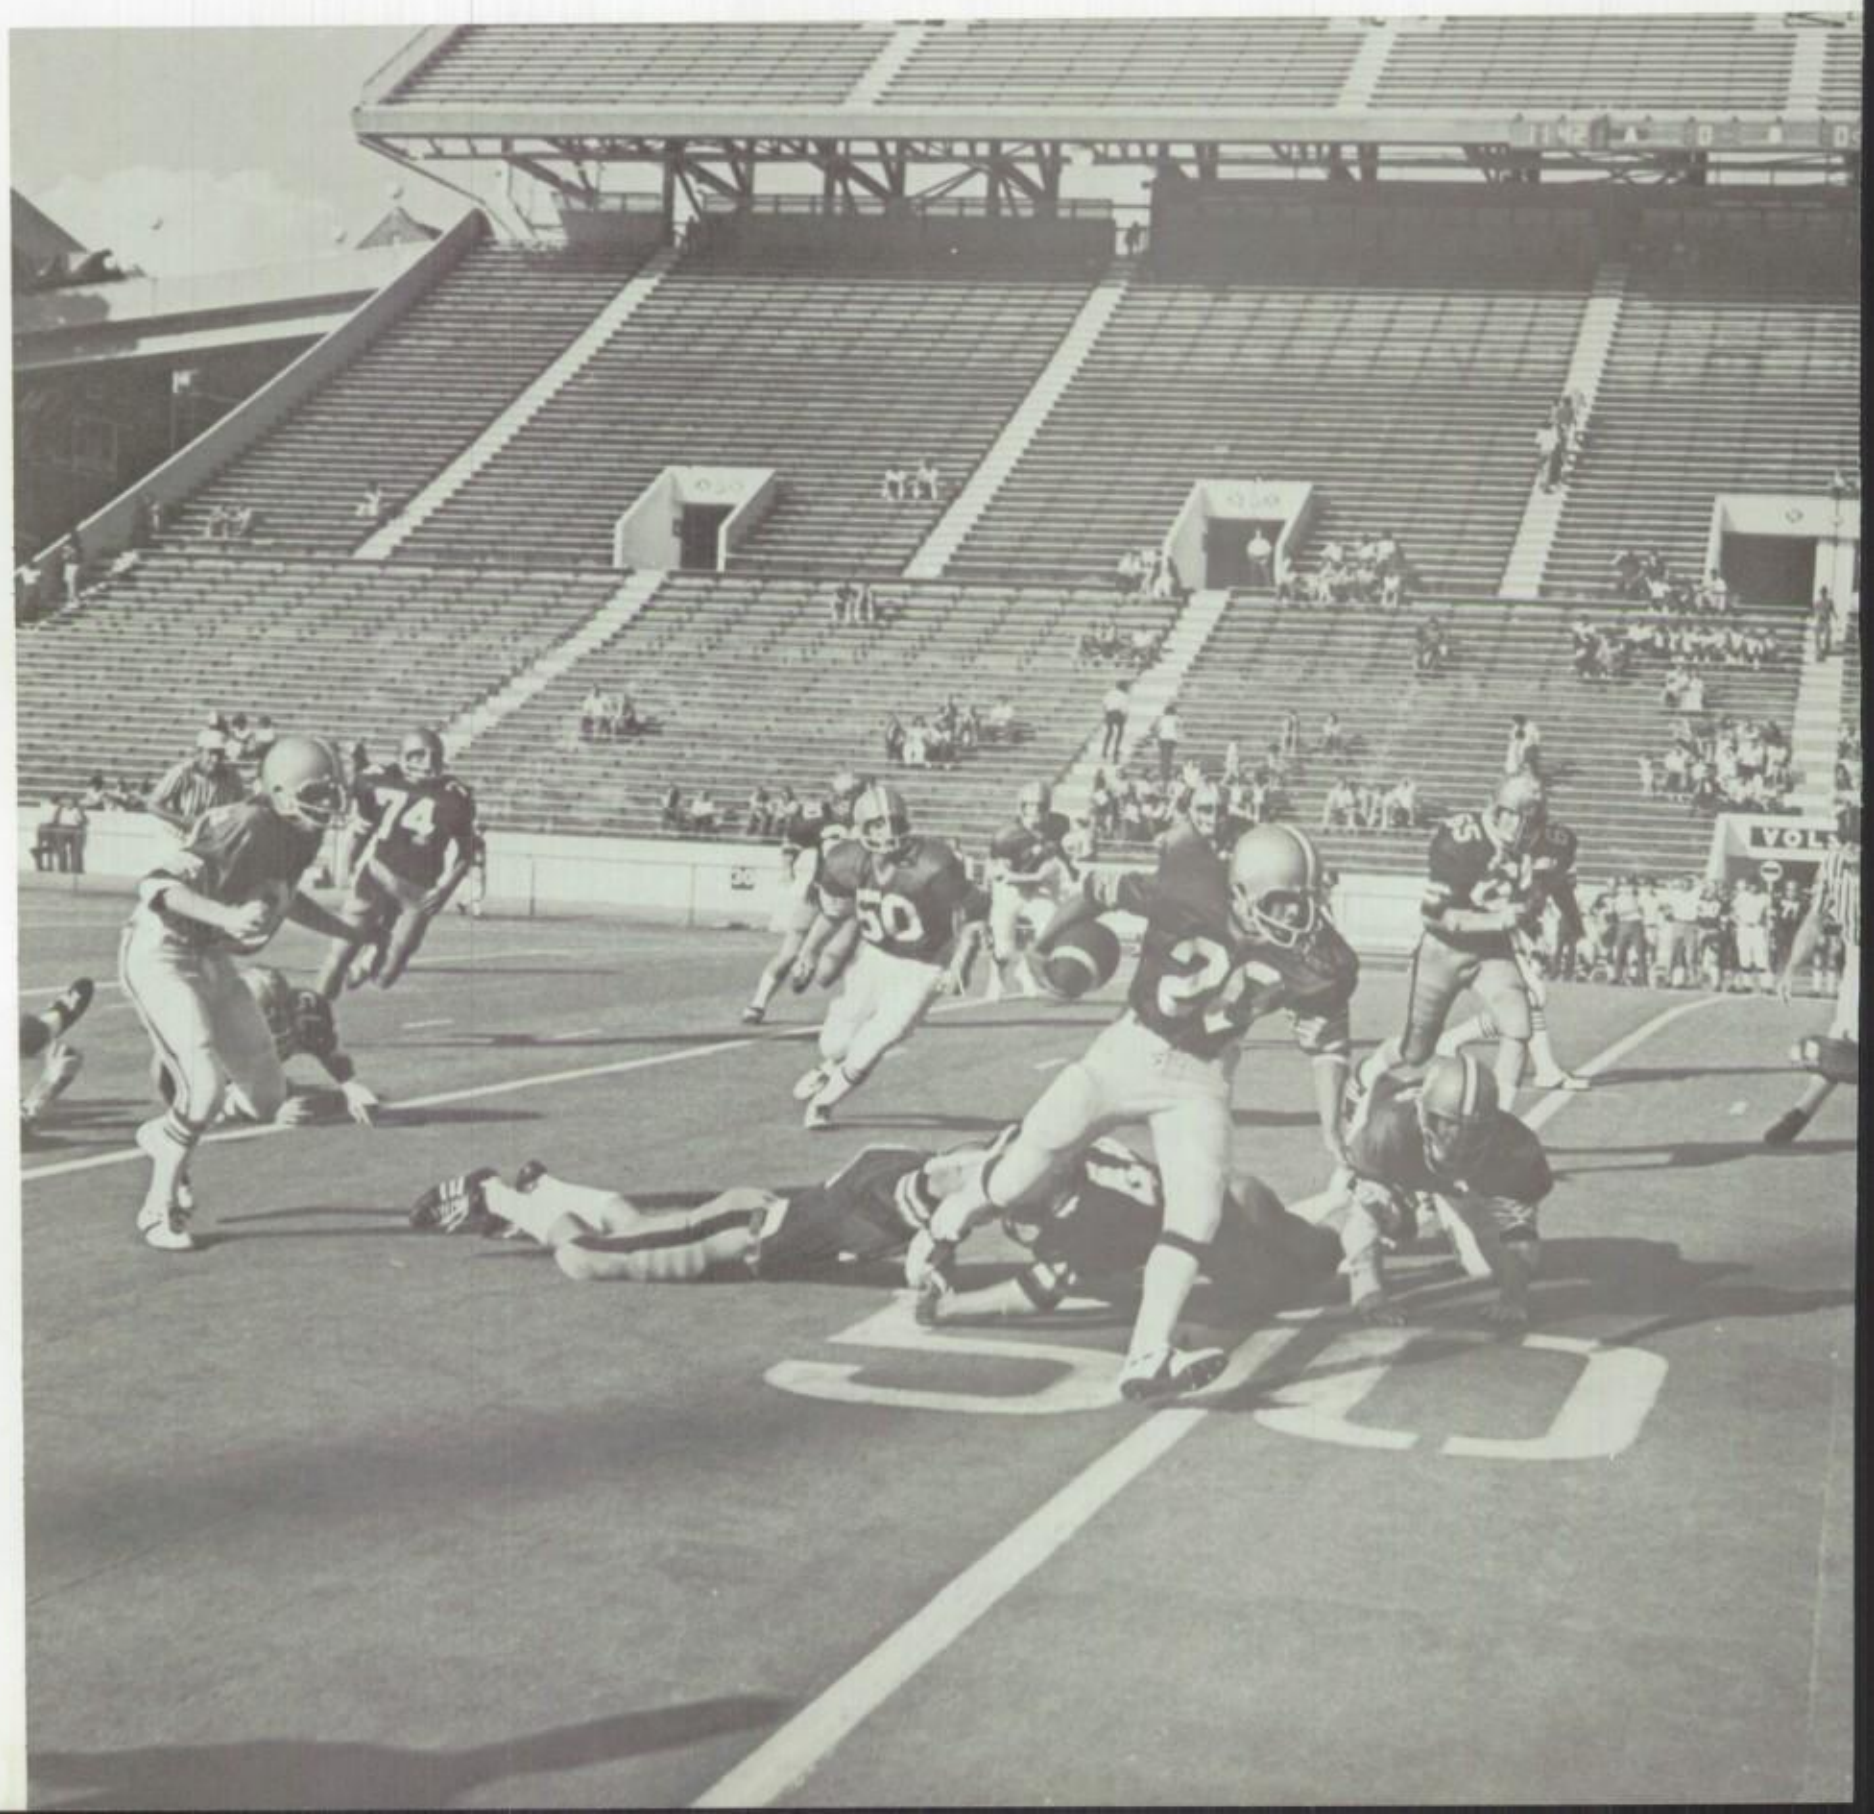
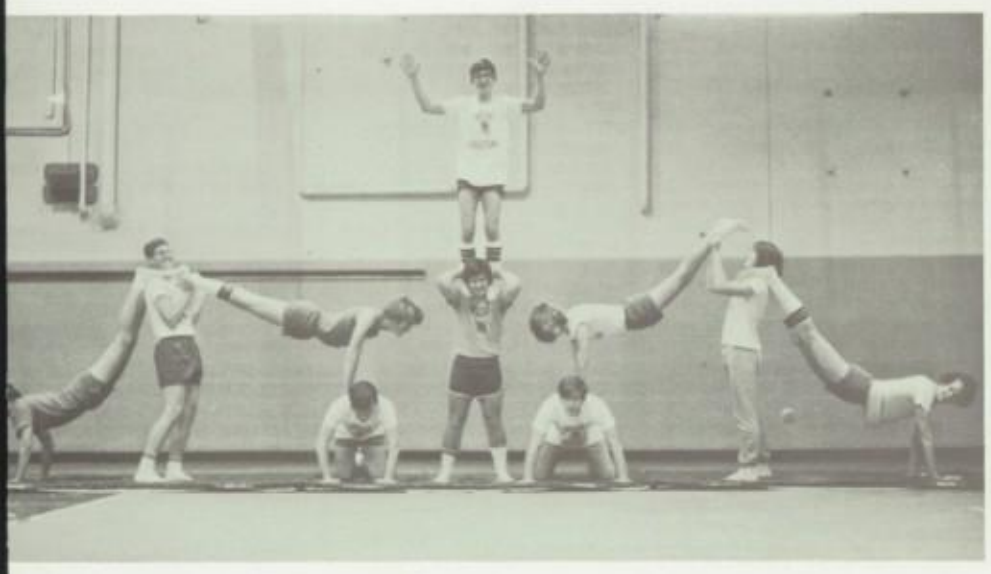
The Lower School Looks Forward(?) to Changes



. . . a new approach





ATHLETICS

I thought we all voted to have summer practice in the morning . . . Don't give up yet — we're only behind by twenty points . . . Hey, who swiped that lucky shirt of coach's? . . . Guys, this is track, that sport where you run around in a circle chasing your feet . . . Whatever you do, don't hit a home run. If we lose that baseball, we'll have to cancel the game . . . No, those V-neck uniforms won't do for the girls' track team, but we'd draw a crowd with 'em.

The 1973 Varsity football team overcame many obstacles and posted a 6-3 record, best at Webb in five years. The pre-season outlook was not impressive, as the Spartans returned only ten individuals who had seen any appreciable action in the '72 campaign. But the enthusiasm of the new head coach, Ron Gratz, and the excellent senior leadership pulled the team through.

In the season-opener against Farragut, the Spartans lost by a touchdown. The most crucial blow was the loss of co-captain Joe Henderson in this game. His career was ended by a knee injury. Webb rolled over Gibbs 28-7 the next week with a 94-yard touchdown by quarterback Bill Arbo. The Spartans succumbed to Oliver Springs, and fullback Al Vesser suffered a broken foot. Webb crushed Catholic 27-0 next as Arbo scored two TD's and the defense held the Irish to 115 yards. South caught the Green flat, but the team rose to the occasion and pounded Tellico Plains, Seymour, and TMI with decisive scores. The 57 points against TMI set a new school record. In the finale, an inspired defense shifted the momentum.

The influence of the seniors was outstanding. As a credit to the team's effort, Webb was ranked seventh in the state in the "A" division. Individual honors went to Bill Arbo and Marsh Frère. Bill was the KFL's third leading scorer with 17 TD's and a member of the all-KFL team, and Marsh was lineman of the week, and a member of the second all-KFL team. With this year's crew of juniors and a great deal of work, the Spartans could contend for a playoff spot in '74.

Junior Spartans Struggle in Frustrating Season

The Junior High football team, led by captain Lee Congleton and co-captain Rob Jones, ended its season with two consecutive victories, despite several injuries to key team members Stan Jones, Steve Sherrod, Tim Schriver, and Ronny Bowling. The Junior Spartans were guided by a new coach, Lower School history teacher Dorn Kile, and the athletic director, Coach Don Tarvin. The team had a slow start against such powerhouses as Farragut and Carter. The season record was 2-4-0, mainly because of the lack of experience. This was a rebuilding and training year. A good team is expected next year with returning lettermen Stokes Peebles, Randy Bowling, Lance Walton, and Martin Carlson.

Despite a disappointing season, the players were enthusiastic and fought to the very end. The Lower School students really supported their team. A system of rotating co-captains offered many players an opportunity for leadership. All in all, the Lower School team has gained valuable experience and many useful techniques for the years ahead. Lee Congleton, Rob Jones, and Ricky Davis promise to be strong additions to next year's Varsity team.

Varsity Basketball Team Dribbles Through Season

Coach Gil Luttrell's 1974 basketball team was plagued with inconsistency as it moved through an 11-19 season. At times the team displayed talent rivalling former championship teams. The Spartans enjoyed fair success against District 3 competition. They defeated three teams twice, Porter, Seymour, and Greenback, and three teams once, TSD, Walland, and Friendsville. However, KIL competition proved too tough. In fifteen games, the Spartans prevailed only once over Karns. Many times the ball just did not bounce the right way, especially in the losses to South, and the overtime defeat at Farragut.

The team fared well in the post-season tourney. Because of the outstanding play of All-Tournament selections Billy Arbo and Carlton Mathes and the spirited defense of Paul Sharp, the Spartans trounced TSD 69-47 in the opening round, and, after staging a furious comeback that put the game into overtime, they defeated Walland 59-58. Catholic defeated the team in this tourney. The Spartans lost third place because of two post-game free throws by Harrison-Chilhowee. By winning the first two games, the team qualified for the Regional Tournament, where their opening opponent was state-ranked Rockwood. Because of Rockwood's skillful guarding, the Spartans lost.

The season was not without its accomplishments. Indeed, this team was the first at Webb to place in the district and qualify for the regional tourney. By the end of the season, the team was playing with the enthusiasm needed to achieve success. Although next year's team will lack the leadership of Sharp and Ragsdale and the support of Slatery and Deaderick, it will have a promising set of returning juniors and sophomores and the enthusiastic spirit of this year's team.

The Varsity B-Team, under the driving leadership of Coach Gene Ezell, weathered a midseason slump and finished with a 9-12 record. In the early part of the season, the Spartans were victorious over Porter, Young, Seymour, and Friendsville. They then lost seven in a row before defeating Karns 51-17. After beating Seymour and Harrison-Chilhowee, the team lost two close ones. The B-Team Spartans ended the season with great promise, defeating both Porter and South. Robert Morris, Richard Robinson, and Mark Vesser were consistent standouts. Everyone on the team was involved in a great deal of playing time. The players entered varied situations, and all benefited very much from the experience.

Consistent Performance Marks Lower School Teams

The A-Team performed consistently throughout the season. Led by Captain Lee Congleton, the Spartans entered close competition in the first games and lost each by only a few points. Coach Tarvin developed the team's talent and endurance during the long season. All-City players Lee Congleton and Max Finklestein were major point-getters. Rob Jones, also an outstanding player, showed great promise. From the seventh and eighth grades, Eric Underwood, Lance Walton, and Doug Hogan put forth great effort in their A-Team appearances. The season culminated in the City Tournament against Whittle Springs, an exciting game which stretched into double overtime. Unfortunately, the Spartans lost by a couple of points.

The B-Team faced its first game against Park with real confidence. The game lasted into overtime, but the Spartans succumbed when Park put in new players. In the first few games, the team pushed hard but had little success. Several players, such as Doug Hogan, Lance Walton, and Jeff Drew, distinguished themselves. The major point-getters were Steve Cox and Steve Avery, who inspired the team to a final surge of effort. In a closing game, the Spartans were victorious!

Active Cheerleaders Exemplify Lower School Spirit

Depth and Consistency: Spartan Swimming Success

The previous successes of Webb swim teams create a great incentive among Webb swimmers. As a result, the competition is always fierce. This year was certainly no exception, as Webb rolled up an unblemished 4-0 season. The team also placed second in city competition, missing 1st by only one point. Several individuals, Captain Meg Cifers, Peggie Johnson, Jeanie Slayden, and Ruth Shellabarger, competed among the best in the state meet.

The 1974 season saw Webb eliminate all opposition easily except for the Farragut Admirals. The Spartans defeated this team in their tightest regular meet only to be defeated by Farragut in the city meet. It was a very uncomfortable second place. Al Locke, Steve Boling, Christine Jensen, Ruth Shellabarger, and Julie Bullock are next year's leaders. This year's leaders, Meg Cifers, Jeanie Slayden, Peggie Johnson, and Billy Yarberry, performed brilliantly as usual in both city and state meets.

The 1974 season was extremely successful as is proved by its culmination in the city and state meets. As usual graduation will be costly but not disastrous. Although some talented swimmers are leaving, the future is nevertheless bright for the Spartan swimmers. In their six years of existence, they have achieved an impressive 17-4 record. Good luck next year!

The Webb Varsity Track Team Comes into Its Own

This year's track team members were very young, but their lack of experience did not stop them from being successful. An example of their success is that the team had eight people who qualified for the region. During the regular season, the Spartans were defeated only once. They showed talent in every phase of the sport. The top field competitors were Marsh Frère, Bill Arbo, Bill Yarberry, and Mark Vesser. The sprinters were led by Doug Traver and Dean Smith, who was undefeated and ran a 10.2 in the 100. The Spartans 880- and 440-relay teams were outstanding throughout the season. The 880-team was made up of Bill Haslam, Mark Dore, Rick Deaderick, and Doug Traver. The mile-relay team of Mark Vesser, Al Vesser, Dean Smith, and Kenan Smith was defeated once by Farragut in the regular season, but the Spartans beat Farragut twice in the post-season meets. The distance runners were Al Locke, Morris Dalton, and Robert Roach. Bill Arbo, Mark Sherrod, and Steve Blake hurdled through the year.

At the KIL meet, the 880-relay team placed first and also placed fourth as a 440-team. The mile-relay team placed third. Robert Roach came up fifth in stiff 880 competition. In the District, all three relay teams qualified for the Regionals as well as 440-runner Mark Vesser, 880-runners Roach and Dalton, and high and long jumper Bill Arbo. In the region, the 880-relay team was fourth with a time of 131.8, seven tenths off the school record. Roach and Dalton both broke the school 880 records. Webb can expect great things from them in the future.

Dean Smith, Bill Arbo, Doug Traver, and Kenan Smith — 1st in the city and 4th in the region 880-relay team.

The Lower Tracksters Demonstrate Athletic Prowess

After a strong start, the Spartans followed up with a successful season. Ricky Davis, Tim Schriver, and Martin Carlson provided much support. The team proved itself strong in several areas—especially in the 880 with Lee Congleton, in the pole vault with Rob Jones, in the 440 with John Cardwell, and in the mile with Steve Dalton. After victories over Powell, Young, and Whittle Springs, the team emerged as a strong unit. The final wins over Tyson, Gresham, and Jefferson prepared the team for the District meet. Lee Congleton placed third in the 880; Rob Jones, second in the pole vault; and John Cardwell, fourth in the 440.

The Spartans showed great diversity of talent while working together effectively as a team. Eric Underwood, Jim Barnes, and Bill Rothery are promising tracksters. Lance Walton and Steve Dalton also have great potential. With work, they will form a solid base for future track teams.

Webb finally organized a girls' track team this year, much to the delight of many. After weeks of rigorous practice, the girls participated in numerous joint meets with the boys throughout the season, and they finished with many accomplishments. Competition was stiff, the chief rivals being Central and Halls. However, with their determination to win, the girls' track team managed to come out on top in several meets.

Peggie Johnson, who scored as many as 20 points in one meet, turned out to be the "Bill Arbo" of the girls' track team by competing in the high jump, discus, 100-yard dash, and the 440-relay. For her achievements, she received the first annual award given to the girl who contributed the most to the team in both skill and spirit. Other naturals, such as Mary Gibbons, the "miler," Peggy Burton and Melissa Morgan, who ran the 880, and Libby Rule, who ran everything, needed little coaching. Although the bulk of the team was made up of Lower School girls, Gwen McIlwaine, Cathy Greene, Trinka Crossley, and Terri Tarvin added Upper School leadership and pep as well as talent to give the team the balance it needed to round out a successful season.

Webb Soccer Fans View Victory This Season

A new element was introduced in Webb soccer this year, the victory. Rod Townsend, a former soccer star himself, inspired (frightened?) the team and gave it the ruggedness and stamina it had previously lacked.

In at least two of the losses in the 2-5 season, Webb was hampered by the non-regulation size of the opponents' fields. The team earned victories in both the first and last games of the season, beating WCA (3-1) and powerful Oak Ridge (2-1), both at Webb. No loss exceeded three points.

The team featured a high-powered offense and a thoroughly competent defense. The forward line, which had the potential to be best in the state, keyed on the play of wings Ken North and Kirby Chritton (2 goals), and center Bo Townsend(1). Aussie Leo Davies added a socceroo goal. Webb had three good halfbacks in Mike Ayres, Jay Newlon, and Tim Pitts, who scored. The stingy defense, which gave up less than 2 points per game, was marked by the play of seniors Greg Reed and Scott Overall and junior Jim Ripley. Once again Webb was fortunate in the excellence of its goalies, this year Steve Minor and Bruce Wallace.

The year would not have been as successful without the extensive help of Mr. Paddon, former coach, who not only officiated but also provided assistance in innumerable other ways. The team would like to thank him and Coach Rod Townsend for their time and effort.

The All-American Sport, Baseball, Hits Webb

Most Valuable Player Bill Arbo plays most valuably.

Webb's first baseball season was very promising. The senior team members, David Dickson, Dennis Ragsdale, Al Vesser, Paul Sharp, and Byron DeWitt Harrison, led an essentially young team to a 7-9 record for the season. The team almost made it into the District Tournament but was defeated by Karns 2 to 1 after nine innings. At the end of the season, several players received special recognition. Bill Arbo was awarded Best Hitter, Fred Ernest was the Best Hustler, and Dennis Ragsdale received the Golden Glove award for the Best Fielder. All KIL player Bill Arbo was named Most Valuable Player in KIL. Since it is a young team, next year promises to be even more successful with strong support from juniors Grigsby, Morris, Breeding, and Arbo and sophomores Ernest, Sample, and Kile. The only freshman on the team, Steve Arnett, also shows great potential. The Spartan participation in baseball is overdue and welcome.

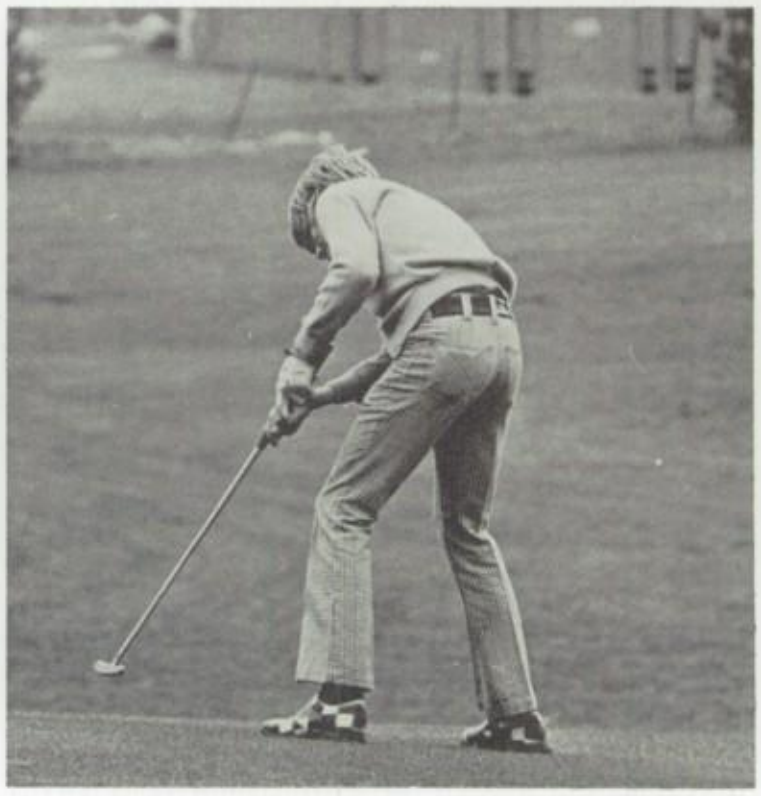
Hemmeter & Greer Help Golf Team Soar to New Heights



Led by John Hemmeter and John Greer, the golf team survived a slow three-loss start to post a 14-7 record for the season. Five golfers, John Hemmeter, John Greer, Mike Lane, Ben Harris, and Jimmy Alexander, formed the basic team. In two battles against their toughest competitor, the Bearden team, the Webb team won one and lost one.

The season was capped off by the News-Sentinel Prep Masters Tournament. The team placed fifth, with John Greer and John Hemmeter capturing third and fifth, respectively. The team also placed fifth in the District. John Hemmeter tied for third but lost in the play-offs.

Since the foundation of the team is composed of sophomores and freshmen, the outlook for next year with the continued leadership of Coach Luttrell is favorable.

The Triumphant Webb Tennis Team Scores Again

The perennial rout of the area tennis teams by Webb players met with little competition in the regular season, as the Spartans posted an unblemished combined record of 8-0. Participating in four matches apiece, the boys and girls encountered relatively few setbacks during individual matches and found stiff competition in only the final rounds of the district tournament.

During the regular season, Sam Patterson and David Link dominated boys' singles, while in the girls' division, Elizabeth Sharp, who won the State in singles, Cathy Greene, and Jenny Glover seldom lost even a game. The victims of the Spartans, mainly Bearden and West, boasted strong teams but did not have the overall depth that Webb had. In the District Tournament, the most surprising victory came from Marco Garcia, who upset second-seeded Andy Russell in the quarter finals and thus earned a spot in the Regional Tournament. The boys' team was typified by the quality of the singles and well-molded action of the doubles play, which earned them a team victory.

It is not sufficient to say that the girls' team won the team championship. It is more accurate to say that they walked off with five of the six possible qualifying positions. Of the four singles places, Elizabeth Sharp, Jenny Glover, and Cathy Greene took 1st, 2nd, and 3rd respectively. The team also gained both doubles positions.

The Lower School Tennis Team acquitted itself equally well. Triumphant over the traditional winner, the Bearden team, the Spartans took first in the city under Coach Clark's leadership. Marianne Sharp and Marsha Montgomery led the team. It is easy to see where the Varsity Team begins its career.

Mr. Tidwell Leads Dauphin Island Endeavors

In the summer of seventy-three, Mr. Tidwell began a dream of his, a marine biology institute. Sixty students attended two sessions on Dauphin Island. As a teacher, there was Phil Coop. The lab assistant, Susan Crenshaw, was also guardian of the door and girls' chaperone. Other helpers were Vicki Tauxe, another chaperone, and Homer, the boatman.

Students came from as far away as Quito, Ecuador, to frolic in Billy Goat Hole, muck in the marsh, and walk on the beaches. During each four-week session, students attended class five days a week and performed several lab experiments. In addition to these activities, each student carried out an individual or group project. Some of these studies were so excellent that the Science Department put out a special edition of the Hexagon containing the best reports. All in all, the Dauphin Island Marine Biology Institute was a great success for both the students and the administrator.

Ad Astra Per Aspera — We Nearly Made It!

After a year of bake sales and preparatory sessions, thirty-two students, Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Trent, and various art objects departed for Memphis in high spirits and a school bus. The sun god Apollo beamed down on the expedition not at all unkindly. Several stops, one at the Parthenon in Nashville, interrupted the journey. Having reached Memphis, part were intent on food, part on sleep. The next morning the Webb delegation set out for Memphis State University.

Several students struggled in the Olympics, Creative Arts, and Academics. Cherry Hill and Gary Jones and Bill Brakebill and several others competed favorably in the Olympics. Chip Denton led the Creative Artists. The Fates were with us and placed third in costume competition. Jay Newlon received two firsts, one for dramatic interpretation and one for costume. Consul Overall also placed with his poem and essay. Our Certamen team expired gracefully after confronting a one-man team from Pearl. In Academic competition, forty-three ribbons were spread through the levels of Latin like stars on a moonless night. Valois Shea, Melissa McCoy, Amy Deeds, LEO, and Scott Overall shone in this division. For some schools it is easy, not so easy for us. Despite a few minor problems — lost students, missing keys, the death of the bus engine — Mr. Brewster pulled us through and the Webb JCLers arrived triumphant in Knoxville.

Los oficiales del Club de Español han tenido un año muy ocupado pensando en las actividades a realizar para los treinta miembros del club. Al comenzar el año Teresa Compere tuvo en su casa una fiesta mexicana para entretener a los miembros del club; hubo juegos y una comida de tacos, enchiladas, y una imitación a sangría. En esta reunión hicimos planes preparatorios para el Banquete de las Lenguas en Navidad. Los miembros participaron mucho en el banquete — algunos prepararon comidas españolas, otros bailaron un baile mexicano y todos cantaron villancicos de Navidad en español. Otra actividad ha sido una lectura sobre Guatemala dada por el señor Richard Bagwell en la casa de Hanley Testerman. La señora Arza, nuestra profesora de español, de Cuba, como siempre, contribuyó mucho en esta reunión. Hemos tenido mucha suerte teniéndola como profesora y patro-cinadora porque su influencia hispanoamericana ha ayudado a hacer este año excitante para los miembros del Club de Español.

Le cercle français a subi un changement dramatique de sa perspective, créant une atmosphere plus relâché et plus amicale. Cela est evidente dans la décision d'ouvrir le sociétariat à tous les étudiants francais. Nos programmes ont été variés mais ensemble ils ont presenté le langage à plus d'étudiants dans des moyens plus rafraîchissants que l'étudie dans la classe. Parmi nos programmes étaient Password (en francais), des scénes comiques et satiriques, et des réunions de la conversation. Un soir de la poésie francaise et de la musique était heureusement organizé par Madame Oakberg, notre conseilleurre enthousiaste. Le cercle a participé au sentiment joyeux du Banquet des Langues á Noël avec ses contributions de mousse au chocolat, quiche Lorraine, et des miches de pain, aussi bien que des Noëls français. En mai des étudiantes de cinquième et quartième classes ont preparé une fête de pot-au-feu et des mille feuilles pour la classe de troisième, aidé des Oakbergs. Vive le francais!

The Webb German Club Dances Its Way to Glory

Der deutsche Verein wurde durch seine Feste berühmt. Wir hatten zwei grosse und andere kleinere Feste. Zuerst war das Oktoberfest bei Herrn Scharf. Das Fest machte uns viel Spass. Hier assen wir viele deutsche Speisen. Es wurde auch viel getanzt, gesungen, und vielleicht etwas anders getan. Und wir lernten die Polka. Dann kam unsere grosse Gelegenheit. Bei dem Sprachfestessen konnten wir den anderen Studenten unsere Tanzfähigkeit zeigen. Wir tanzten schrecklich, aber es machte uns viel Spass.

Im Februar war das grosse Faschingfest, das dem Mardi Gras vergleichbar ist. Die verrückten Studenten trugen viele verschiedene Trachten. Deutsches Monopoly und Billarden waren sehr wichtig.

Der Verein versuchte, viel Geld zu verdienen, weil wir diesen Sommer nach Deutschland reisen. Die Reise soll sehr interessant sein.

Bohnhoff Leads Interact Club Through Active Year

Like most groups, the Webb School Interact Club, which began the year with a crush of "members," dwindled to a small but sturdy core of sincere workers. Unlike other clubs, this one organized and continued some of the district's largest projects.

Members spent their time on two main projects and a diversity of smaller, meaningful activities. The first big project, our steadfast paper drive, sounded rather simple in Celia's weekly announcement. Actually it was chaos. Desperately trying to find a truck or car to transport the papers and frantically searching for someone — anyone — to load up the papers in the rain constituted the normal Thursday afternoon. There were benefits: seeing how far Jennifer and Kevin could heave a bag of papers and eating donuts. But the greatest benefit was that, on Thursday afternoon, we knew that we had just saved five trees from the lumber yard and made a few more dollars for the animals.

We saw how the shelter needed money and our help. On several expeditions, we cleaned and painted the cages and the walls and worked around the outside. This kind of work produced headaches during and after — but the same people would return. The reason behind that work is the basis of the club.

Other projects, with other members, brought money to UNICEF, smiles to children, and a home to a Colombian orphan. If you noticed an iris or crocus around the school this spring, you saw one of the many little deeds of the Interacters. Not all of our projects are written in capital letters.

Current Events Club Draws Varied Speakers

Perhaps one of the most active clubs at Webb is the Current Events Club. In the six meetings this year, the members heard discussions on a wide range of topics. Several A.F.S. students came to speak about their countries, which included Africa, Germany, and Switzerland. There were also two talks on local politics conducted by Charles Maynard and Mike Rowland. Other distinguished guests included Stoney Lane, who spoke on penal reform in Tennessee. As in past years, the club stimulated widespread student interest in current affairs.

The socializing period after the talks gave students an opportunity to question each speaker. John Sample, the president, and Kirby Chritton, a moving force in the club, are to be commended for providing interesting and varied speakers. The club owes many thanks to the faculty advisor, Mrs. Lothrop, for its exciting and informative year.

The Tuesday Tutoring Program Gains Prominence

In co-operation with the Community Action Committee, nearly thirty Webb students participated in a tutoring program for elementary and junior high school students in East Knoxville. In the last two years the Webb volunteers have provided over three hundred valuable hours working with children from Park Lowry and Green Elementary schools, as well as Vine and Park Junior High Schools. Because of the large response from Webb students, the program director, Kirby Chritton, scheduled groups of six tutors to work once every three weeks, thus alternating student tutors. Extending the scope of the program to a personal level, a level beyond just books and studying, the Webb students not only helped to improve the students' academic standing but also founded an understanding between groups of different ages and economic backgrounds. In this situation, the tutors, who came from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, also benefited. Next year, under the leadership of Christine Jensen, the program is expected to flourish after these two years. It has proved to be a valuable asset for the Webb students who participated.

Mu Alpha Theta, led by President Steve Minor, initiated 12 new members into its ranks at a dinner meeting at the McCoys' house. Because of busy schedules, ill sponsors, and conflicting meetings, there was only one other meeting this year. At the Minors' house, a UT lecturer spoke to the group about infinity.

Despite the club's relative inactivity, several of its members distinguished themselves in state math contests. As a team, Patty Obenour, Laurie Osborne, and Amy Deeds placed 11th in one contest. In the regional math contest, Tom Pierce was 2nd and Steve Sherrod, 7th in Geometry. An Algebra I student, Ifor Williams, was 8th, and Greg Weinstein was 7th in Comprehensive I. All four Comprehensive II students placed: Laurie Osborne, 3rd; Richard Thornton, 6th; Amy Deeds, 7th; and Steve Minor, 8th.

Math Club & Outdoor Club Serve Varied Interests

This Year's Outdoor Club — with Mr. Hutto as faculty co-ordinator and Audrey Townsend as president — had a number of successful outings. The year began with a tubing and an overnight trip to Smokemont, North Carolina. A second trip was taken in November to the Gibbonses' farm in the Cumberland Mountains. The last outing was a canoe trip down the "Little T" and a camp out on the Travers' farm. All three trips were well supported and greatly enjoyed by some forty outdoor enthusiasts.

The X-Period Program Nourishes Body and Soul

. . . the chairmen

Knoxville can hardly be described as a literary utopia, but there are a reasonable number of fine local writers in the East Tennessee area. It was the year's purpose to tap this supply. Although optimistic predictions were formed, fate seemed to be against success this year. Several authors such as Wilma Dykeman and Don Whitehead were unavailable and their appearances were cancelled.

However, Jon Perry and Scott Overall, this year's organizers, did manage to persuade noted writer of fantasy, poet, literary biographer, and historical novelist Thomas Burnett Swann to speak. A recent winner of the coveted Hugo Award for the best work in the Science Fiction and Fantasy genre, Mr. Swann not only answered questions about writing in general, but also offered insights into education, the publishing business, and the Bible. Since a large number of his books were available in paperback, club members and guest Mr. Paddon came prepared for a lively discussion centering around the suggested book The Forest of Forever. The outlook for next year's club appears brighter, with some authors not ready this year appearing willing to speak then.

Quality, not Quantity, Marks Literary Club & Hexagon

The members of the Hexagon staff have been working on and off all year. Unfortunately, The work has been more off than on. Meeting at odd hours and in odd places, the staff members labored fitfully during the year with Mr. Tidwell urging them on constantly. It is yet to be seen whether this issue of the Hexagon will be born or still-born. However, hopes are high.

This issue will concern last year's Dauphin Island efforts. Included will be David Neill's report on "Species Diversity of Fish," which placed third in the Southern Appalachian Science Fair. Other outstanding reports will be "Fish Feeding Habits," by Charles Force, and "A Study of the Currents at the East End of Dauphin Island," by Ginny Gibbons and Susan McMillan. This Hexagon will be notable because, for the first time, it will include reports from students outside of Webb School.

The 1973-1974 staff of the Spartan Spirit faced the usual problems associated with a student publication: a lack of time and organization, apathy, a limited budget. The paper emerged from these difficulties with a mixed record under the auspices of Editor Scott Overall and Faculty Advisor Mr. Hutto.

The paper staff tried many innovations this year, and those which succeeded will be used next year. The experimentation with different paper sizes, senior caricatures, and a new title logo worked well; others, such as senior sketches, borderless pictures, and creative writing, failed. Inroads were made, however, toward the use of photo essays and color pictures.

Business manager John Sample began the year with the most successful ad campaign in the paper's history. Ads were actually neglected because of too little space. Sports Editor Hugh Slatery, almost entirely recovered from his deadline-itis of last year, made the sports section consistent. The fine work of Peggie Johnson in her senior caricatures, Kevin O'Kelley and Steve Barbour in their pictures, and Kirby Chritton in his editorials should also be recognized.

The greatest disappointment of the year came when a planned Satire Issue had to be scrapped. However, perhaps by the law of compensation, we were at least able to draw extensively from outside sources such as Thomas Burnett Swann, Alvin Toffler, and paraprofessional photographer Mike Chritton.

The Webb Spring Fling Is Flung Once Again

In the last ten months, I have spoken at several schools and clubs around Knoxville about Australia. I have discussed my impressions of the U.S.A. and the A.F.S. program. Now, however, as my year at Webb draws to a close, I have started to think a little more about what A.F.S. means to individuals, the Townsends, the students at Webb, and, of course, me.

Everyone likes to think that the world revolves around him. Thus it came as something of a blow to my ego to realize that my year at Webb will have little lasting effect on the school. When I arrived in Knoxville, I discovered that the previous A.F.S. student was "Rosa from Spain." Although I didn't think much of it at the time, it comes as a shock to me now to realize that, in three months, I shall be "Leo from Australia." I understand that A.F.S. is a large organization and necessarily impersonal. I feel that I have had an effect on the life styles of the students at Webb, a little on some, and a lot on a few like the Townsends. They won't forget me, but the memory will fade, and their lives will go back to normal. The fleeting effects I've had on the teachers frustrated by my lack of work and on the students I've met will also fade. The memory won't fade for me because this year has been the greatest experience of my life up to now. Now, seeing how much effort Webb students put into this fair, I realize how much A.F.S. means to this school, and I want to thank the A.F.S. club and everyone involved in the carnival. I feel now that the real value of A.F.S. is in its long-range effects on a school. And I'm proud to be "Leo from Australia."

The Social Committee Has Everything It Needs

Despite a limited budget, the Social Committee managed to provide various dances and sock hops throughout the year. Headed by seniors Jay Newlon and Trinka Crossley, the committee decided at the beginning of the year that frequent, informal dances or sock hops were needed, especially after football and basketball games. Often these dances were more like parties with card playing and records than dances. However, one time the committee went all out and brought in a disk jockey from WKGN who not only provided music but also gave away prizes for a dance contest.

The bigger dances of the year were the Football Dance, the Christmas Dance, and the Twirp Dance, which were presented with music from Mojo and from Una and His Big Legs. Most of these dances turned out quite successfully. Attendance was high, particularly at the Twirp Dance, where the movie "Doctor Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" was shown.

Many thanks go to Mrs. Brindley, whose support helped many of the dances get off the ground. Nor will the Social Committee forget the helpfulness of Mr. Lee and Mrs. Waterman. The committee would like to give special recognition to Annetha for the "Spartan green" punch, which has become a tradition at Webb dances. Over all, the dances this year were not always profitable, but they served their purpose in bringing the students together to have a good time.

Dance Troupe Inspires Enthusiasm Among the Young

The Webb School Dance Troupe 1974, composed of fifteen girls and one boy under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, had the opportunity of taking a winter tour. In preparation, the members attended an interesting performance by Edward Villella at Sewanee and participated in master classes under Raymond Clay at the University of Tennessee. Here the members learned different techniques which helped them in their jazz and modern dance numbers.

The first performance of the much-practiced program was a great success. With a very warm welcome at Harpeth Hall in Nashville, Tennessee, the members felt quite at home and did very well. The second stop of the tour at Girls' Preparatory School in Chattanooga also proved rewarding. The jazz numbers, the favorites of the Webb Troupe, were the most popular.

After the tour, the Dance Troupe returned to Knoxville and were ready for more practicing. The next performances were for the student body at Enrichment period and the Spring Fling. Next year the troupe will miss the experience of the seniors but will strive to keep their present level of excellence.

As modest as always, I feel that this annual is the best in Webb's history. Long copy, longer faces, and still longer hours produced this yearbook. It was all worth it. I am proud of Co-editor Amy, proud of the staff, proud of the school. An incredible amount of student enthusiasm went into this book. Despite the work and the panic and the deadlines, I will miss the Princeps and its staff.

All the official workers were recognized on another page, but there are other people who made the annual. On this page, my page, I am surrounded, as usual, by the people who made the annual possible for me. Although some have no apparent connection with the Princeps, when my sanity hung dangerously in balance, these people rescued me. And I wish to give my personal thanks to them for this year and this yearbook.
